Windchill ProjectLink

Project collaboration for product development

Today's challenging global environment demands effective collaboration. With Windchill ProjectLink, you can securely harness the talents and energy of the entire team, inside or outside of your firewall. Through a virtual workspace, Windchill ProjectLink provides access to the right product development and project management information at the right time, keeping the team aligned, on-track, and moving forward.

Capabilities & Benefits

- Automates key business processes such as New Product Introduction, Six Sigma, and Advanced Product Quality Planning
- Integrates with numerous mechanical and electrical CAD solutions, Microsoft Office applications, and the Windows desktop
- Accelerates time to market by providing real time visibility to current documents, parts, and plan information
- Fosters innovation through real-time group collaboration, both inside and outside your firewall
- Operates seamlessly with Pro/ENGINEER and Windchill PDMLink for incorporation of product information in cross-enterprise activities

Collaboration Capabilities

With a broad understanding of electrical and mechanical design data from all major authoring tools, Windchill ProjectLink offers capabilities for collaboration on heterogeneous CAD data.

Compliance

Windchill ProjectLink workflow and routing features, such as the ability to include electronic signatures, enable compliance with regulatory requirements such as CFR Part 11.

Document Management

Robust document management capabilities, including the bulk uploading and downloading of documents, enhance team productivity.

Project Management Improvements

Windchill ProjectLink offers comprehensive project management and execution capabilities including the ability to define and manage milestones, tasks, deliverables and resources – all backed up by a full suite of reporting capabilities.

Web-based

Project and user-based portals enable everyone to track the project schedule, deliverables, status and associated tasks while personalized subscription and notification capabilities allows one to be attuned to the latest changes.
